2	Blue	The middle band and the three hills
3	Red	The bottom band and the shield

DID YOU KNOW?

The white shape is a double-cross (a cross with two bars). It's an old Christian symbol that has stood for this region for over a thousand years.

The three blue hills under the cross stand for three mountain ranges: Tatra, Fatra and Mátra. The Tatra Mountains are the highest part of the Carpathians.

The white, blue and red are the Pan-Slavic colours, shared by many Slavic countries like Russia, Slovenia and Croatia.

Slovakia is a country in central Europe with a huge number of castles for its size, well over 100 of them! Its capital city is Bratislava.
