DID YOU KNOW?

The building is Angkor Wat, a huge temple built over 900 years ago. It's the largest religious monument in the world.

Cambodia is one of only a few countries with a building on its flag — and its flag has shown Angkor Wat, on and off, since 1850.

The colours have meanings: blue for the king, red for the nation, and white for religion.

Angkor Wat is so important to Cambodia that it appears on the country's money and is the nation's proudest symbol.
