DID YOU KNOW?

The decorative red and white stripe on the left is based on a traditional Belarusian woven pattern called a Ruchnik.

Belarus means "White Russia" — the country is famous for its vast ancient forests, including the Białowieża Forest, home to European bison.

This flag was adopted in 1995 and is very similar to the Soviet-era flag, with the communist symbols removed.

Green represents Belarus's forests and fields, and red represents the blood of defenders of the motherland.
