COLOUR GUIDE

1	Red	The top two-thirds, and the grey shaded shapes in the left stripe
2	Green	The bottom third of the flag
3	White	The unshaded background of the left stripe

DID YOU KNOW?

The red and white stripe on the left is based on a traditional Belarusian woven pattern, like the ones on a rushnik — a decorated cloth towel.

The name Belarus comes from White Rus, an old name for the region. The country is famous for its vast ancient forests, including the Białowieża Forest, home to European bison.

This flag was adopted in 1995 and is very similar to the Soviet-era flag, with the communist symbols removed.

Green represents Belarus's forests and fields, and red represents the blood of defenders of the motherland.
