1	White	The left half, and the George Cross in the corner
2	Red	The right half, and the thin edge around the cross

DID YOU KNOW?

The cross in the corner is the George Cross, a British medal for bravery. It was given to the whole island of Malta in 1942 for its courage during the Second World War.

Look closely at the middle of the cross: it shows St George on horseback fighting a dragon, with the words "For Gallantry" around him.

Malta is a tiny country made of islands in the middle of the Mediterranean Sea. Its capital, Valletta, is one of the most beautiful walled cities in Europe.

Malta is one of the sunniest countries in Europe, with warm weather nearly all year round and crystal-clear blue seas perfect for swimming.
