DID YOU KNOW?

Officially, red stands for the Armenian Highland and the people's struggle, blue for the wish to live under peaceful skies, and orange for creativity and hard work.

Armenia is said to be the first country to make Christianity its official religion, in about 301 AD.

Mount Ararat, a snow-capped volcano just over the border in Turkey, is a famous Armenian symbol and appears on the coat of arms.

The apricot's scientific name, Prunus armeniaca, means Armenian plum, and apricots are one of Armenia's best-loved fruits.
