DID YOU KNOW?

The colours have meanings: yellow for the country's sunshine and riches, blue for the sea and sky, and red for the bravery of its people.

This is the plain version of the flag. The government's version has a coat of arms in the middle, with a condor, a mountain and a ship.

Ecuador owns the Galápagos Islands, famous for giant tortoises and the animals that helped Charles Darwin work out his theory of evolution.

Ecuador sits right on the equator — which is where its name comes from. It's also home to Chimborazo, whose peak is the farthest point from the centre of the Earth.
